TEAMS

Overview

When times get tough and circumstances change, teams need their coaches more than ever, although our clients may need to cut costs wherever possible. This leaves teams in a tricky situation without the professional facilitation they need.

Our research shows that many teams are struggling to connect with each other and communicate effectively in this new world of remote work. We aim to address that, supporting healthy team dynamics and improved collaboration with our Remote Team Building offering.

Key Objectives

Our Remote Team Building offering will create a relaxed space, allowing the team to step back from their work, and participate in some fun-filled bonding activities. This will strengthen your team's foundation and enable their success.

Products and services

A Remote Team Building held by an experienced facilitator to support the creation of a fun, cohesive atmosphere within your team.

This includes:

- A context discussion before the session and a close-off where appropriate
- A variety of team building activities, including problem solving, games, quizzes and more.

- Required online tools such as Zoom or MS-Teams, in conjunction with online collaboration tools, web- or mobile-based applications.

Impact Focus

Activities, exercises, and tools that support and enable continuous improvement in the team's dynamics and interactions.
